ORBIT TIP OF THE DAY

YOUR TIP FOR OCTOBER 20

How much should you spend on advertising? Think 10% to 12% of your annual sales.

WHY? Roy Williams, the "Wizard of Ads" (wizardofads.com) suggests shooting for a "cost of exposure" of rent plus advertising totaling 10 to 12 percent of your annual gross sales. This means that if you're paying high rent for a key location, your advertising investment will be proportionally less.

HOW? Advertising = your business's lifeblood. A blended advertising program is the best way to keep your business healthy.

Frame Focus: Size Matters

PROMO FILM:
GEORGETOWN OPTICIAN

KLIK DENMARK

Designed for both fit and fun, model K-537 is typical of this line for smaller eye sizes suited to ages 18 to 40. With a neat square eye shape, its modern wood-look finish has a colored lining.
