

WESTGROUPE LAUNCHES SPY'S JOHN JOHN FLORENCE FOLDING GLASSES

2013-10-31

Spy has introduced the Fold, a foldable sunglass inspired by Spy's John John Florence and distributed by WestGroupe.

As a pro surfer, John John knows how to pack tight and travel light. With this in mind, John John and Spy designed the multi-hinged Fold frame, which "folds" up to fit neatly in its pouch or a pocket.

The Fold is custom-built from Grilamid and features a bridge hinge, five barrel hinges at the frame and temple and mid-temple pin hinges for quick folding and stowing, as well as six-base curve polycarbonate lenses, 100 per cent UV protection. A custom, collapsible pouch with a slot for cards completes the set.

The Fold will also feature Spy's revolutionary new Happy Lens technology, an innovative lens designed to let in the sun's "good" rays that promote balance in the body – fostering a positive uplift in mood and alertness – while simultaneously blocking the "bad" rays.

The Fold is available in three colour ways – matte black with Happy bronze polar with a black mirror lens, matte black with bronze with a Red Spectra lens and matte black with a grey lens.
