

Current Frame Trends for Women: Spring and Summer 2010

If you want to know which eyeglass frames are the must-have look of the season, check out these trends. Also see the current eyeglass frame trends for men.

Drama Queen. For a glitzy look that's impossible to ignore, try frames with jeweled accents and daring, angular shapes. Cutouts and intricate designs distinguish these frames by Adrienne Vittadini, Apple Bottom and St. Moritz.

Earth Maiden. Natural elegance glows in eyeglass frames with earthen colors and patterns. Look for a down-to-earth, square frame shape in the wood-patterned Kliik style K298. Cat-eye frames also remain in vogue, as in the tortoise-colored style in the Natori collection by Zyloware Eyewear and the brown Scooples frame with animal-patterned temples by Optics Design Source.

Tempress. These playful new styles make the temptation for a new look hard to resist. The pink and gold metal Naomi frame by Face à Face is a cat-eye shape with cutouts and pink-patterned plastic temples. The newest Jalapenos style, called OMG, sizzles with a bright blue eye frame and multicolor temples. Desiree from Lafont Paris sports a cat-eye shape in classic tortoise.

Special thanks to The Vision Council for its assistance with fashion updates.

Want more? See our section called What's New in Eyeglass Frames. Whatever your style may be, you'll find the right frame — or frame wardrobe — for your personality and lifestyle. See also: [Spring and Summer 2010 Trends in Sunglasses] AAV

f Follow All About Vision on Facebook and be first to hear about eye care news and new articles.

Earth Maiden

Kliik style K298
(Wescan Optical)